Pre-AP courses focus deeply on a limited number of concepts and skills with the broadest relevance for high school coursework and college and career success. The course framework serves as the foundation of the course and defines these prioritized concepts and skills.

When teaching a Pre-AP course, teachers have purposeful time and space to bring their own voice and lessons into each unit to best meet the needs of their students and address the full range of state standards. This alignment summary demonstrates the deep connections between the Pre-AP English High School Course Framework and the North Carolina English Language Arts Standard Course of Study to support teachers and schools in their planning. Along with the corresponding standards crosswalk, teachers and schools can use this alignment summary when planning and preparing to implement Pre-AP English 2.

= Very strong alignment

= Partial alignment

Alignment between the Pre-AP English High School Course Framework and the NC English Language Arts Standard Course of Study is described as very strong or partial. A very strong alignment is one in which the majority of the standards are fully addressed by the mapped Pre-AP Learning Objectives (LOs). A partial alignment is one in which the standards are partially addressed by the corresponding Pre-AP Learning Objectives. Partial alignment can occur when one framework includes greater specificity or extends beyond the scope of the other framework. Given the focused nature of the Pre-AP course framework, some partial alignments are to be expected.
Alignment at a Glance: Partial

NC ELA Standards:

- Reading
  - Range of Reading and Level of Text Complexity

- Language
  - Conventions of Standard English

Discipline Highlights

- While the overall alignment between the NC English Language Arts Standard Course of Study and the Pre-AP English 2 framework is very strong, there are a few areas of partial alignment due to differences in the level of specificity in certain areas.

- North Carolina’s English Language Arts Standard Course of Study at times includes more granular statements than the Pre-AP learning objectives. For example, NC standard RL.9-10.10, which requires connecting prior knowledge and experiences to text, is not addressed specifically in the Pre-AP course framework. However, the broader expectation of understanding literature using a range of reading strategies and resources found in Pre-AP LO 1.1C provides opportunities for the development of this skill. In addition, EK 1.1C2 calls for metacognitive reflection during the reading process.

- There are few partial alignments, with most of those focused on discrete skills such as attending to spelling. The Pre-AP framework includes opportunities to address a range of discrete skills within broader learning objectives such as LO 3.3A.

Summary

Beyond alignments to the Pre-AP course framework, it is also important for educators to turn to the Pre-AP Shared Principles and Pre-AP English Areas of Focus to understand the full picture of alignment between Pre-AP English 2 and NC English Language Arts Standard Course of Study. The shared principles and areas of focus represent the Pre-AP approach to teaching and learning, and these principles deeply address skill development and disciplinary practices that cannot be easily captured within a standards crosswalk. In summary, there are ample opportunities for teachers to address the NC English Language Arts Standard Course of Study with confidence throughout this course.
